DEDICATION

"A friend to all . . . " is perhaps the best suited phrase to describe the relationship of Mrs. Blanche Mathews with the students at Riverside. A patient ear and understanding manner are two assets which make her a friend of many. It is with great admiration and deep gratitude that we, the Class of 1964, honoring this friendship, dedicate the 1964 edition of the Riverside Pathfinder to her.

Mrs. Mathews is well known for her smile and desire to help others. In the 22 years she has taught in the Northeastern District it is estimated that she has had at least 4,000 students under her supervision, and all will remember her for that extra care she bestows on each student.

For Mrs. Mathews this dedication is a record of achievements; for the 1964 Pathfinder Staff, it is an opportunity to pause in the shadow of one so well loved and admired.

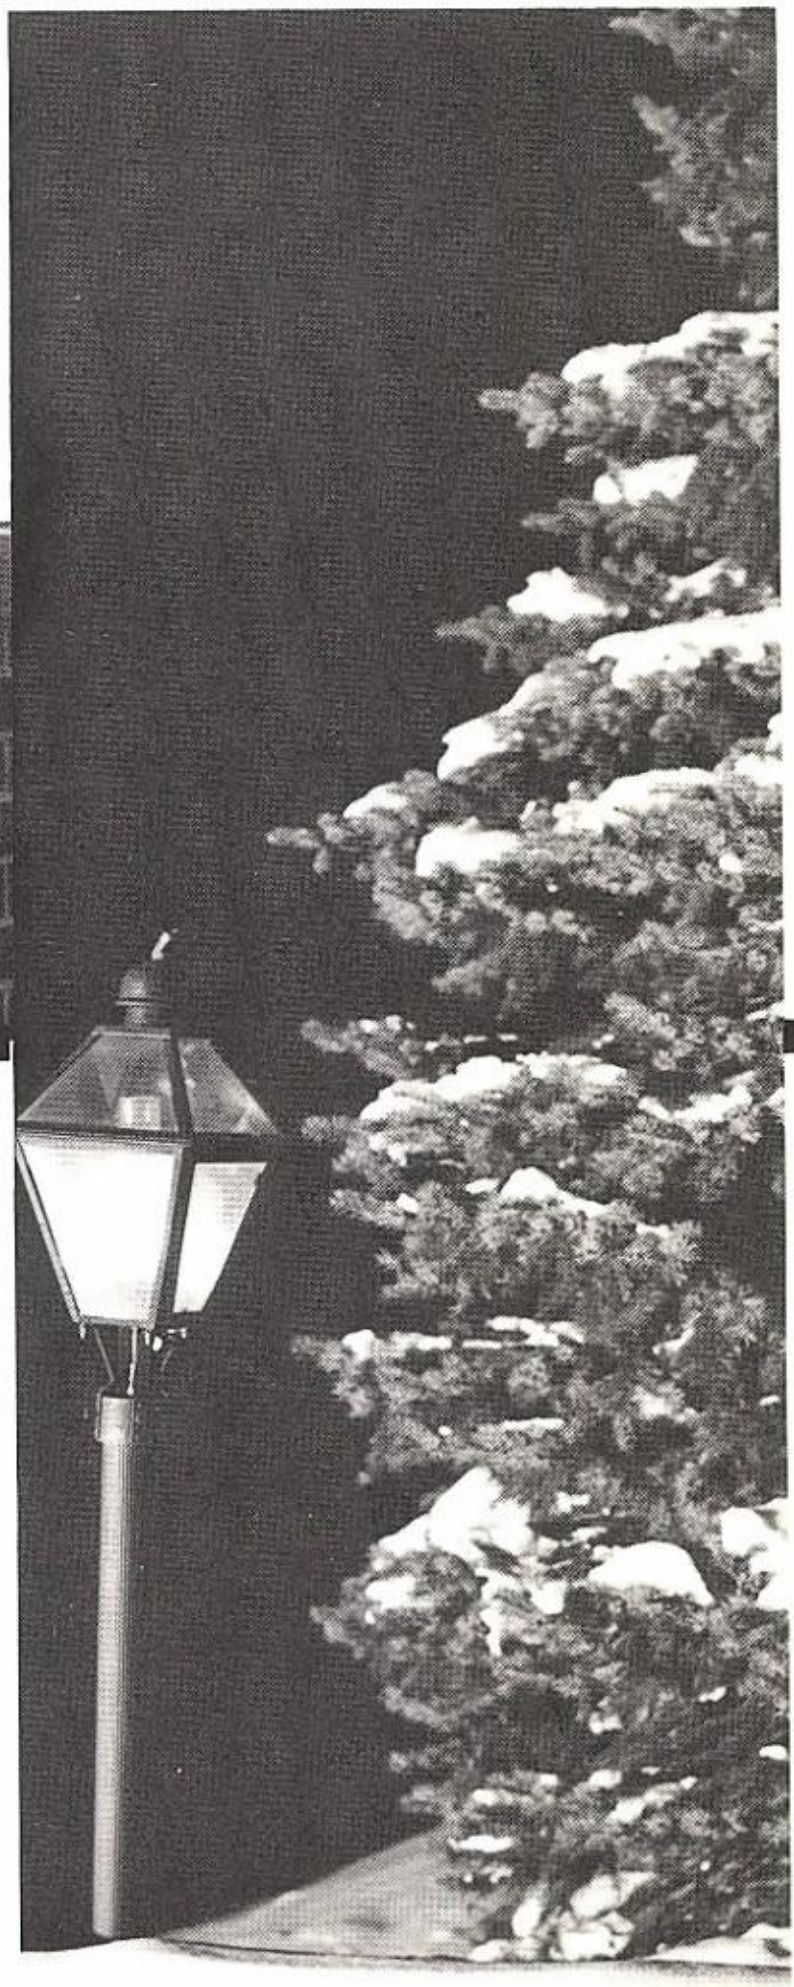
Smiles light the faces of homeward bound students as school lets out for the day.

Spring is a time of happy meetings where boys and girls plan the good times ahead and reminisce the trials and joys of the year past.

PREFACE

The Seasons. Nothing aids so much in reviewing the past as the seasonal relationship to experiences. Our activities are divided by the seasonal aspect of our life. Nothing can cause the great panorama of our lives to pass before us in retrospect as vividly as the seasonal characteristics.

It has been our aim to present the 1963-64 school year in a seasonal theme to help maintain the color and natural order of the year.



The icy blast of winter held the area in its grip.

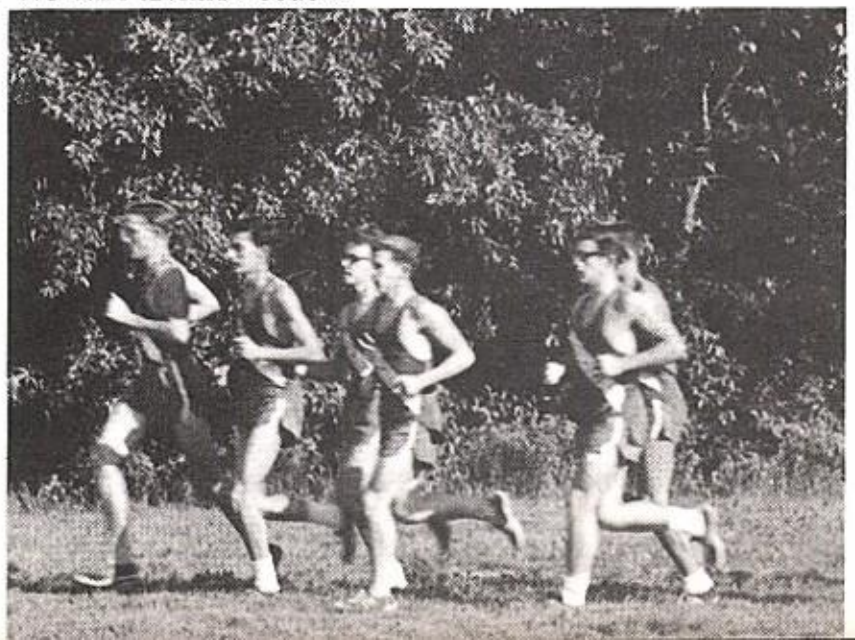
Our outstanding squad was the result of practice, conditioning, and effort put forth by our runners. The "thinclads" took second place in W.P.I.A.L., sixth at State and fifth in the Midwestern Athletic Conference and accomplished their best season. Holding the best record was Russ Clyde who captured five first places out of the seven meets that he entered including the W.P.I.A.L. meet.



BOWLING

Back in the athletic ranks again this year was Riverside's power packed bowling league. The Panther league met each Saturday morning at Park Lanes for an exhuberant battle of ball and pins. Vying for the title and glory of first place took up most of the ten teams time through the fall and winter. The awarding of trophies in the spring provided the climax to a very successful season.

The educational needs of the Northeastern Area School District were well taken care of by our competent school board composed of responsible citizens, dedicated to the job set before them. This year several large problems confronted them; the largest of these was probably the new addition to the high school. This included fifteen new class rooms, a science lecture hall, enlarged cafeteria, library facilities, and an indoor swimming pool. The board spent many hours developing this expansion plan, studying present needs and probable future trends to assure that all improvements and additions would provide the best possible facilities required to fill the expanding needs of the community.

Mrs. Fern Hall Clerk, Mrs. Margaret Grandey, Secretary.

SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

Edward Schaffer
B. S. Slippery Rock State College, M. Ed. University of Pittsburgh

Mr. Schaffer pauses briefly in his never ending task as Supervising Principal. The parking lot in the background, filled with faculty automobiles, and the piles of reports and brochures on his desk are representative of his past accomplishments and present diligence in the co-ordination of the education of the young people in Northeastern Beaver County School District. Among his duties are selection and supervision of faculty and administration, preparation of the budget, and supervision of the curriculum of the high school and elementary buildings.

Responsibility such as this requires more than a simple willingness to work; it calls for dedication and genuine interest in the lives of us, leaders of the future.

Leslie Marietta
B.S. Indiana State College, M.S. Westminster College, University of Pittsburgh

PRINCIPAL

With a friendly smile and a warm manner, Mr. Marietta went far beyond his assigned duties as principal, putting the whole of his ability and dynamic personality into achieving the high goals set for us and maintaining the standards expected of Riverside. Every detail of the school life was of concern to him; his fantastic ability to be on top of all problems, plan and co-ordinate the curriculum and all activities and still find time to continue his graduate studies amazed many.

Looking back over his long list of accomplishments and realizing the amount of time spent and the determination required, we cannot help having a deep feeling of gratitude for the direction of such a capable leader.

GUIDANCE

Robert Marziano
A.B. Geneva College, M.S. Westminster College, University of Pittsburgh

The doors of the guidance department were always open to the student seeking professional advice in such important matters as studies and choosing a life's work. A frequent sight was the glow of lights in the counselor's office as Mr. Marziano consulted individually with junior high and sophomore students seeking answers to a multitude of questions. We found the ease in discussing problems that one feels in talking with a close friend when Mr. Marziano used his friendly and understanding manner to win our confidence.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Charles Krepps
B.S. Clarion State College, M.S. Westminster College, University of Pittsburgh

An old friend filled a new office in the administrative staff at Riverside this year. Mr. Charles Krepps, former full time guidance counselor, became the first Assistant Principal. His main duty was to be Mr. Marietta's "right hand man" and assist with any problems concerning the attendance, cafeteria, student driving, or busses. Although his new duties kept him very busy, Mr. Krepps continued as the Senior Guidance Counselor helping many seniors make their final decisions concerning the furthering of their education.

SECRETARIAL

A familiar sight to the students of Riverside, when they entered the main office or health suite, was the secretaries. Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Ferringer, and Mrs. Boots worked industriously to maintain all our records. There were medical histories to be filed, and kept up to date, guidance reports, and general office work to be done. Though their duties were varied, each had an important part in the efficient operations of our school.

Without a doubt the basic tool in the educative process of our students was the study of the English language. Without a thorough understanding of its usage we would be unable to obtain a well-polished style of writing and speaking. With this in mind the students advanced from the basic areas of the language into the more complicated and complex studies of structure and linguistics. In addition to the grammar, the students were exposed to the great American and English novels and the famous plays of Shakespeare.

SOCIAL STUDIES

One of the fundamental subjects which a student takes is History; it brings out the problems of the past and present which may confront the student in later life. Those in the history department tried to emphasize these problems and prepare the student to face them. The student received this training through graduated courses in American History, World Cultures, Problems of Democracy and Economics. Armed with the knowledge obtained in these courses, Riverside students were prepared to face their future.

SCIENCE

This is a world of advanced scientific skills and before one can advance in science he must have a basic knowledge of this field. Riverside attempted to prepare its students by offering a rounded program of science. General science provided the fundamentals needed for the study of biology, chemistry and physics which were offered in sophomore, junior and senior years. When one successfully completed his courses here, he was prepared to futher his education in the competive world of sciences.

MATHEMATICS

Since the days of "reading", "ritin", and "rithmetic", mathematics has been an important ingredient in everyday life. Riverside filled this requirement by providing math programs to suit the students' every need. These included an accelerated course for academic students and a practical program for future vocational usage.

"Together they fill the tank in fourteen point eight four hours." Mr. Frisk and students continue search for X.

COMMERCIAL

The main objective of the Commercial Department at Riverside this year was to provide the business students with a well rounded background of the basic fundamentals of typing, office practice and shorthand to prepare them for their chosen future in the business world. Upon completion of the course many students were able to procure full time jobs without additional schooling.

HOME ECONOMICS

Many homemakers of tomorrow gained valuable training in the Home Economics classes at Riverside. In the kitchen, the girls learned various ways of redressing simple foods into eye-catching main courses. The whirr of machines in constant rhythm was a familiar sound as one passed the sewing room. By beginning with simple articles and then progressing at their own speed, many girls ended up with a lifetime hobby.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Future draftsmen, machinists, carpenters and craftsmen received their early training in the Industrial Arts department. Long hours were spent by both the instructor and students as the boys gained a background of basic manual skills, then gained proficiency in machine operation and design. They were more than repaid by the thrill of the student in using his hands to produce a beautiful and useful creation of his own design.

MUSIC

"Let's listen to it again class! But this time try to discover the composer's purpose." Well they listened and as the year progressed the music students at Riverside developed a real taste for music in all stages. By listening intently many were able to discover the melodies of many modern songs hidden in the themes of old classics.

She was also in charge of all screening and eye and hearing tests for seventh through twelfth grades. Dr. McPherson, physician, and Dr. Morrow, dentist, completed the medical staff at Riverside.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Turkey dinners, chicken a la king, fish steaks and ravioli were just a few of the tantalizing dishes served the students of Riverside this year in the cafeteria. Mrs. Logsdon and her well-qualified staff offered the best in both colorful and well balanced meals every day.

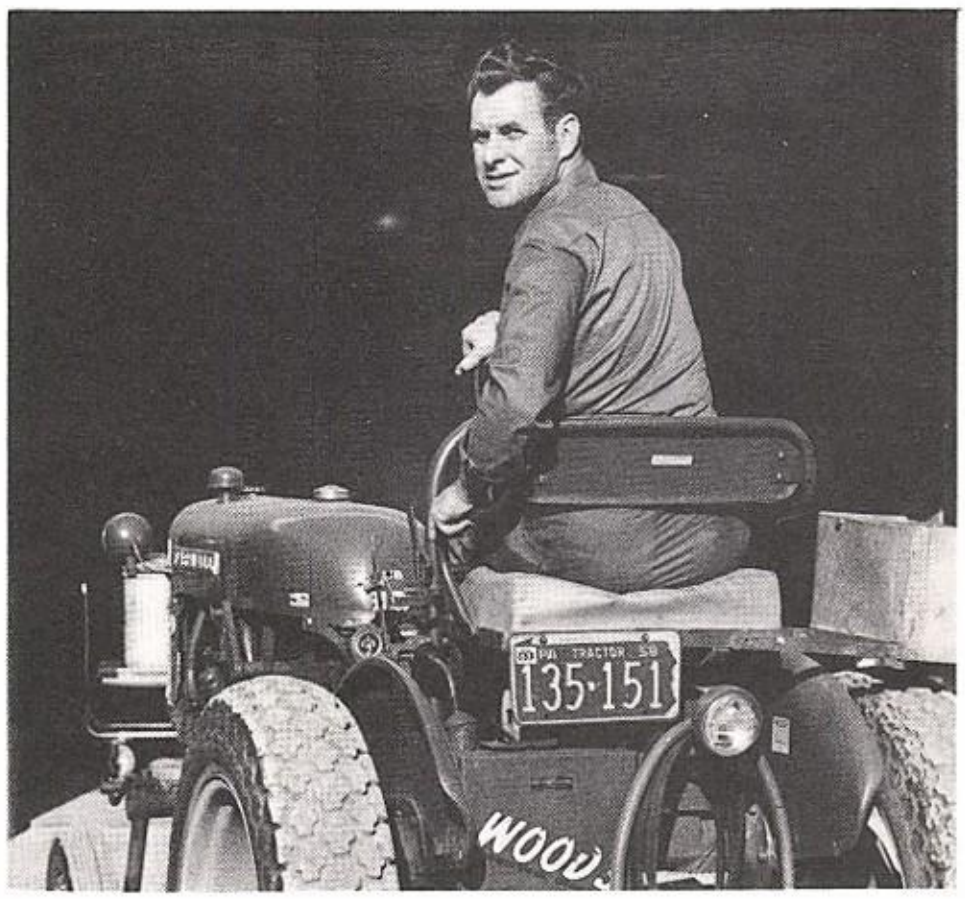
MAINTENANCE

On the job around the clock, a dedicated crew of all-around handy men worked behind the scenes to care for our comfort. Keeping the building in spotless condition, providing warmth in winter, and replacing that bothersome blinking fluorescent light were but a few of the tasks they performed.



Mr. Bowers, Superintendent of Maintenance for the Northeastern District.

MUSIC

Skillful leadership, enthusiastic instrumentalists, and unusual arrangements helped produce a varied and polished effect in the 1964 edition of the Riverside Panther Band. Placing first many times in competition the "highsteppers" soon spread the name of Riverside well beyond the bounds of the valley. On the stage they displayed equally excellent style. The fall concert was highlighted by the motivating strains of the theme from the Academy Award winning movie Lawrence of Arabia. A constant devotion to the band by director David E. Brooks, and the fine cooperation rendered him by the musicians provided the initiative for a truly rewarding year.

Of the band's many members, some have earned special recognition. Jim Dripps, who captured the post of Drum Major this year, skillfully led the Panthers through each parade. Carol Shaffer, band president, devoted many hours to make each band function a success. Barbara Altsman vied successfully for the position of Head Majorette and capably undertook the task of instructing the majorettes in various drills. It is individuals like these who have helped raise the name of Riverside to the pinnacle on which it now stands.

Ted Nevin, Carole Miller and Francis Piper represented Riverside at the Tri-State Band Music Reading Clinic held in Pittsburgh.

MAJORETTES

Leading the Panther Band in brilliant array this year were the eight high-stepping majorettes. These girls, under head majorette Barbara Altasman, spent much time and effort striving to achieve precision. The advanced skills acquired from this practice were not demonstrated only before the cheering crowds of a parade but also before the attentive audience of the Fall and Spring concerts.

Two of the majorettes won special recognition in the INBTA twirling contest. Barbara Altsman was awarded the title of Miss Personality of Beaver County. In addition to that honor, she won first place trophies in fire and duet twirling. Patti Martin also received a first place trophy in duet twirling class.

BRASS ENSEMBLE

Yes, that was a nice B flat, but as for the rest of it . . .

Part of the enthusiasm that carried them to the peak of success—band members scurry to find music and instruments prior to rehearsal.

Viewed by many at plays and concerts, the Brass Ensemble displayed fine qualities of musicianship which earned them a reputation worthy of praise. Comprised of fourteen musicians and directed by Mr. Brooks, this group provided a harmonious blend of brass melody which left a lasting impression on each listener.

The "Drifters" put their best foot forward this year, as they frequented the dances, providing enchanting tunes. Known by all for their mellow sound, the "Drifters" completed a most successful year.

The Christmas Vesper service and the Spring Concert highlighted the activities of the choirs this year. Over 150 students, participating in the combined choirs, rehearsed throughout the fall months in preparation for their Yuletide concert. WINTER

The skies were cold . . . pale sunsets ended the days early . . . the festive season stole into place while we were still too busy to notice . . . elaborate Thanksgiving dinners . . . the magic of Christmas came upon us . . . the spirit was then carried throughout the holiday dances . . . Santa arrived . . . the beginning of a new year dawned. Winter was a frenzy of piercing winds . . . knee deep snow . . . and sniffles galore. It was a playful season . . . we were determined to do well on those semester exams . . . turn in those nearly forgotten term papers on time . . . cherishing those few moments of peace at last . . . until spring. The hills were covered with snow . . . the sky was a deep velvet . . . richly dotted with brightly illuminated stars . . . evenings were spent warming by the fire . . . winter was a time for big sweaters . . . and red woolen "longies" . . . hot chocolate . . . sloppy joes . . . were inviting after an evening of skating on the lake . . . March blossomed into spring . . . and Winter, too, faded to just a memory.

The beauty of song sets the spirit of the holidays at the Christma
Vesper service.

Wintertime Riverside sleeps under a blanket of snow.

Caroling choir boys greeted visitors from their festive niche in the lobby.

Mr. Getty catches himself —in the holiday spirit, of course.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

The coronation—Donna Popescu, 1962 Princess, crowns Lynda Rowlands Varsity R Princess. Attendants and escorts are Sharyn Taylor, Dennis Shingleton, Frank Dec, Fred Altsman, Terry Keefer and Carol Holfelder.

As tradition demands, Christmas was set off this year at Riverside by an undercurrent of parties and dances. This year's Varsity "R" Dance, "Winter Wonderland," was no exception as it helped sprinkle the approaching holidays with a festive flavor.

SPORTS

The Panther hoopsters made a favorable impression on the Section VII standings, finishing in their highest place in three years of participation. Under the direction of mentor John Novalesi, Riverside worked its way to a 9-11 record for a berth in sixth place. The Panthers had little time to warm up for league play, participating in only three exhibition games before being plunged into section competition. The Green and White had a decent 2-1 record and then took four straight losses before ending the first half of play with a win over Freedom. That win was the beginning of a five game win streak, the longest in Riverside history.

Panthers receive last minute instructions from Coach Novalesi.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Mr. William Lennox's reserve squad lead the non-official Junior Varsity league with a 16-4 record for the season. Like their varsity brothers, this was the best season experienced by the Panther reserves. No matter what the score was the team never stopped or gave up. The JV'ers fought hard to achieve their 16-4 record and two of the four losses were by only three points. These boys should contribute heavily to the success of next year's varsity squad.

JUNIOR HIGH

Although the Panther cubs were winless in league play, the junior high players gained valuable experience from their encounters. Coach Norman Gregor and his assistant Dennis Gaiser gave the squad the training they will need to become adept ball-handlers, rebounders and play makers so that their showing next year should yield much better results. Although they were lacking in height and actual ball-playing experience, they more than made up for it in determination and spirit.

ORGANIZATIONS

Council in session searching for answers to school problems.

The members of Riverside's Senior High Student Council labored diligently to uphold our school's high standards of citizenship. Into their hands fell many projects, among them were the Christmas Food Drive for Needy Families, operating the student book store and presenting the student handbook. These were handled with the same efficiency and enthusiasm that has rewarded them with such an outstanding record in past years.

To stimulate high scholarship, constructive leadership, purposeful service and worthy character were the chief aims of the National Honor Society. Juniors and Seniors who possessed these traits to a high degree were selected by the faculty to become members of this group.

As a service to the school the members volunteered to help students with subjects in which they were having trouble. They also helped with Career Night to make it a most rewarding event.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Riverside chapter of the Future Teachers of America zoomed ahead this year with new and enthusiastic members. Throughout the year this group helped sponsor various school activities and did their best to promote the high ideals of the teaching profession.

A special project this year was the monthly printing of the F.T.A. Newsletter. Carrying brief articles concerning our school, the newsletter was sent to alumni.

Following in the footsteps of their senior counterparts, the Junior High Student Council spent most of their time learning the basic fundamentals of student government and its functions, in this their first year at Riverside. Under the guidance or Mr. Lindeman they discussed current student problems and possible solutions to put into practical use the knowledge they had gained. It was hoped that an early attempt in training students in student government would prove a stimulus for future service on the senior high level.

"R" THESPIANS

The "R" Thespian Drama Society is an organization of those interested in dramatic arts in high school. Membership in this organization was open to anyone who showed an avid interest in dramatics and earned a total of 100 hours working on one or more productions in a school year.

This year the "full" members of the club enjoyed many varied activities. They took several trips to the Pittsburgh Playhouse to view professional plays as well as writing and producing plays of their own. The members also enjoyed several films concerning backstage work and learning the art of make-up.

SENIOR HI Y

The aims of the Riverside Hi-Y were to foster Christian growth and school spirit. Through the practice of clean speech, sportsmanship, scholarship and living, the members promoted the ideas of high ethical and moral standards. The boys of the club also stimulated the intramural sports of the school with bowling parties and intra-club basketball games. The club also took part in the Butler Sportsorama in competition with other Hi-Y clubs in the district.

JUNIOR HI Y

Take a sponsor who is always ready for fun, add to that ninety-five active young men who desire Christian Fellowship and Physical training and presto you have the Riverside Junior Hi-Y.

On Saturday mornings throughout the year these boys met with Mr. Downing, their sponsor, to have a planned period of discussion. The course they studied was entitled Teen Talk and was published by the state Y.M.C.A. Lively games of basketball and volleyball followed the discussions. The time spent in practice helped prepare the boys for the Spring District Rally.

SENIOR TRI HI Y

The Senior Tri Hi-Y of Riverside fulfilled the purpose of the club by extending Christian character throughout the home, school, and community. At Christmas time the twenty-seven girls made gifts for the Beaver County Childrens' Home. They obtained the money for this project by selling candy at the Senior Class Play.

On April third and fourth, Peggy Teets and Sally Bauder, representatives of the club travelel to Harrisburg to participate in a mock United Nations Program, part of a training session. Representing New Zealand, the girls classified this as a very successful venture.

President Peggy Teets, Vice-President Sally Bauder, Secretary JoMarlene Brandt, Treasurer Linda Thompson, Chaplain Judy Householder.

The Jr. Hi-Y endeavored to extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character.

Together with its advisor and officers, the club was busy continuously with its projects and activities. This way of working together was designed to help members achieve personal growth. One of the projects undertaken by this group was the collection of coat hangers and used clothing for Lintz Shelter Workshop in Rochester. These items will be used in the training of mentally handicapped young adults.

VARSITY R

Easily recognized by the green jackets and white blazers, the Varsity R Club has played a major role in boosting the spirit, and adding to the activities at Riverside.

With such highlights as the Christmas Dance and Halloween Ho-Down, the Varsity R contributed much to Riverside's social life. Athletics were also stimulated by the club'e fine athletes with their outstanding ability, unequaled sportsmanship and superb spirit. With these qualities, the Varsity R Club and all its members created a keen desire to win and a spirit unmatched in any field.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

If it were not for their size and shape, the Riverside Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America might have been confused with a behive this past year. Constantly on the go, this bustling group was always buzzing around doing good for others. At Christmas they worked hard to promote the food drive for needy families and their bake sale to share with others. Only when day was done and work was finished did they take time for their own pleasure and by these gestures of friendship earned their title of success.

LIBRARY CLUB

Their efficient and courteous way of getting things done helped the seventy-four members of the Library Club to asset the library in many ways this past year. As they performed the routine tasks of cataloging books, arranging shelves and magazines, they furthered their goal as an aid to all fellow students. This year an addition to the school was made by the Library Club . . . a student bookstore. It enabled students to purchase almost any paper back book. The profits were used to buy more books and help finance the club's trip to the University of Pittsburgh Press.

SENIOR ART CLUB

The Senior Art Club, perhaps the most active club at Riverside, instilled in its members ability, skill, and interest in all aspects of arts and crafts.

Composed of truly inspired students of the arts, the organization presented opportunities to gain creative and practical experiences in such diversified fields as architecture, oil painting, commercial art and poster making, ceramics, and flower arrangement.

JUNIOR ART CLUB

The Junior Art Club members, junior high students new to the field of art, and with the same abilities and interest required of their senior high counterparts, were active throughout the year with school services and instructional programs.

Some tangible results of their fine work were displayed at the anuual art show, providing a cultural background for the community.

With the hum of projectors, the Electric Club was known at Riverside for its fine work in the audio-visual aids department and other electrical fields throughout the school.

The Electric Club created an interest in electricity for these young technicians and taught them its many uses as well as its dangers. Their behind the scene efforts contributed to the success of many of our school functions.

HOBBY CLUB

Everyone should have a hobby! At least the forty-five members of the Hobby Club felt this way. Once a month they gathered to discuss the problems and successes they had had while building model cars.

To supplement their treasury, the members held a car wash on November thirtieth and a dance on February fourteenth. The proceeds from these functions helped finance the annual Hobby Exhibit which was held in April.

G A A

The Girls Athletic Association was a club which peaked the well-organized sports program for Riverside girls. This group was made up of girls who were interested in and who strove for the promotion of better sportsmanship in all school sports activities: basketball, tennis, baseball, bowling, and many more. Through this national organization and with Mrs. Uebelacker's guidance, these gals learned to accept responsibility and to obtain higher ideals and leadership.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

The Future Nurses Club surged ahead this year with a group of enthusiastic gals, devoted to medical careers for the future. Throughout the year they received encouragement by doing their best to cheer convalescent friends and neighbors and usher them back to health.

Many of the girls received a hint of what is in store for them as a nurse through participation in the volunteer program at the Beaver Valley General Hospital. Not to be discouraged, they zoomed through the hard places and recognized their goal . . . a shiny white cap.

SPRING

Spring came with an upward surge of spirits at Riverside . . . the cruel winter had passed . . . spring fevers waged a continuous battle with the academic world . . . only to be antagonized by slumber parties . . . prom plans . . . picnics in the country . . . and the fast approaching goodbyes. Bermudas . . . sneakers . . . clamdiggers . . . swimsuits . . . sunglasses . . . tennis rackets . . . golf clubs . . . and baseball gloves . . . came out of hibernation . . . as the schizophrenic weather made swift changes from the cold . . . icy winds of winter . . . to the gentle . . . playful breezes of Spring. The laughing sunlit days remind us of baccaluareate . . . commencement . . . summer jobs . . . and vacation fun just around the corner. Seniors' memories were tempered by the anticipations of the future . . . like a radiant awakening it happened . . . and in a moment it had passed . . . summer had come . . . and spring, too, was just a memory.

SPRING ACTIVITIES

". . . and it could hang over the mantle." Kathy Bellian sales-talks a not so willing Tom Dwyer at the spring art show.

A long awaited call.

Man overboard! Young seaman takes an unexpected dip.

Hey, you said you wanted a little bite!!

Listen. I've got a hot tip on a badminton game.

The last round-up. The bus operators, none too regretfully, form the familiar line up for the final time.

Our side has twenty percent fewer cavities. Mr. Marietta and Rev. Gobrecht prepare the presentations at the sports award banquet.

ATHLETIC AWARDS

Riverside's athletic season this year was climaxed by the annual All-Sports Banquet. Here, deserving athletes received letters and special awards for their contributions to the sports activities at Riverside. Also, the Varsity and Junior Varsity received awards for their inspiration and leadership in the sports program.

This was also a high-spot for the individual because, not only did it mean good food, but represented a reward for a lot of hard work, excitement, and enjoyment experienced throughout the year.

"Congratulations, Denny." Mr. Lennox presents Denny Vinroe with a well-deserved award.

"Forget the baseball awards Norm, Nov's never going to shut up." Coaches Gregor, Carlson and Novalesi.

Scholar-athlete — Frank Dec receives the first annual presentation from the teachers of the district for his outstanding ability in academics and athletics. Representing the teachers is Mr. Cornell.

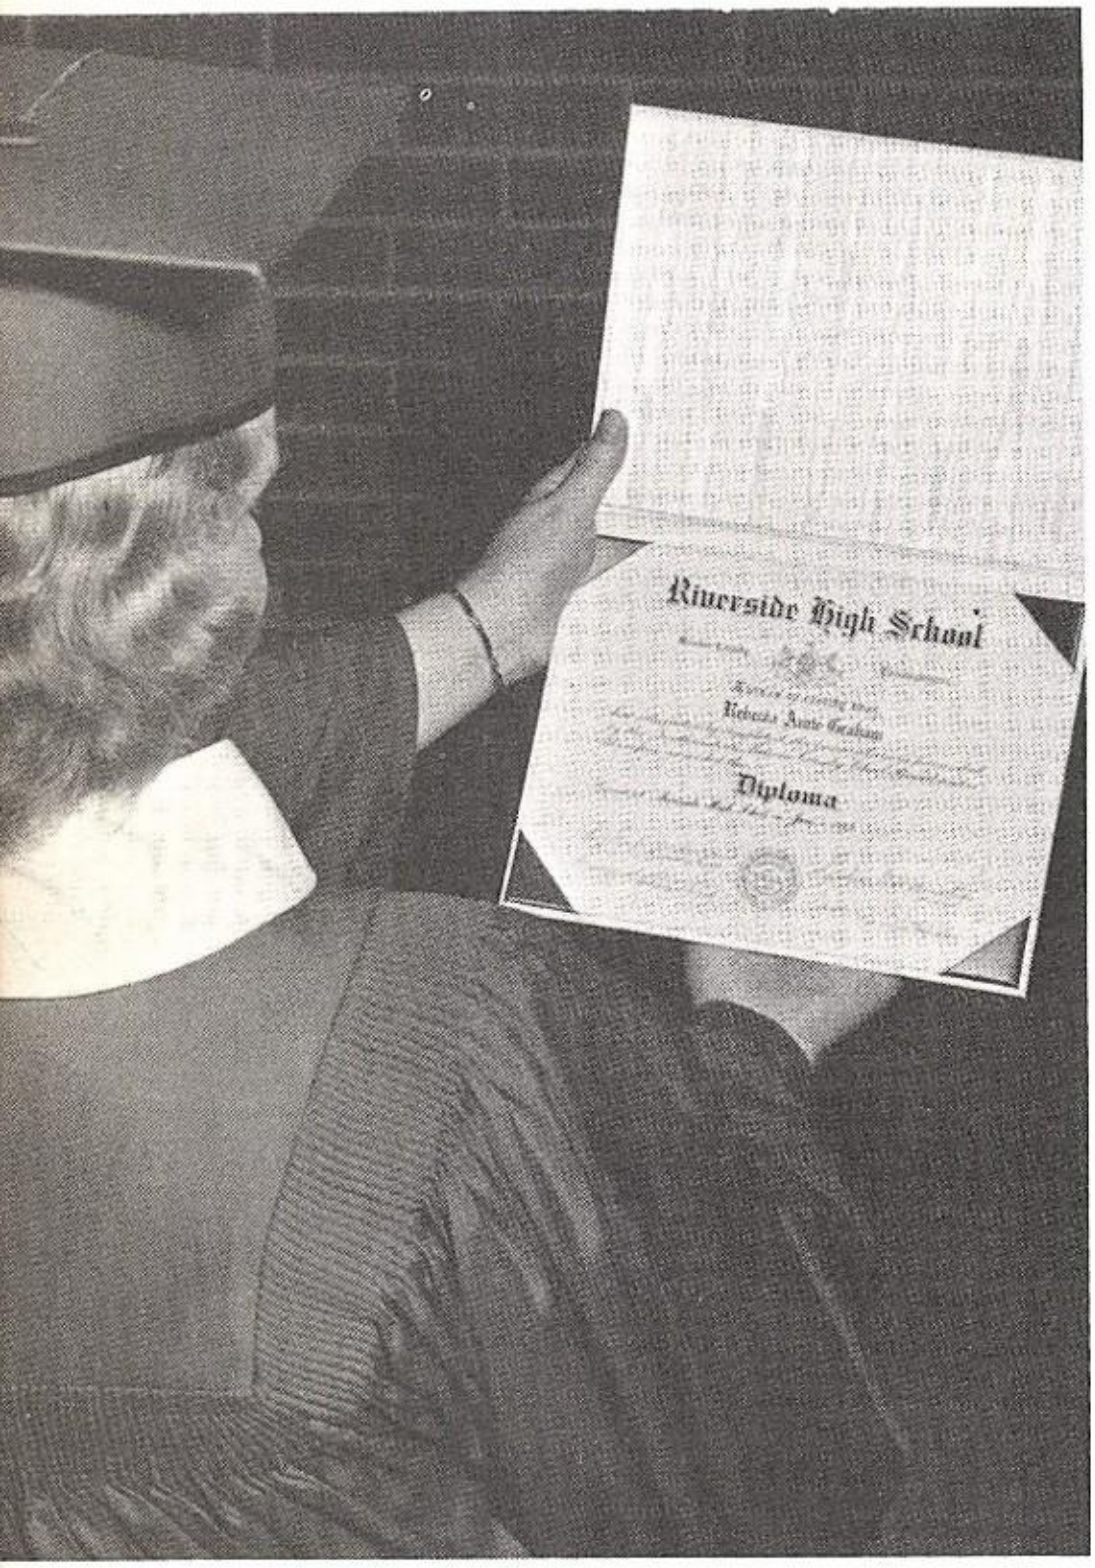
SPRING PROM

With the advent of spring, hasty preparations were made for the approaching end of school. Amid the last minute cramming for finals, Juniors found enough time to create an enchanting prom, one that will forever be remembered by all those who attended.

As 'twas expected, the prom was plagued with last minute details. Among the usual problems were those over anxious Seniors who harbored near, hoping for just a glimpse. But all the waiting was worthwhile, as they entered the gym on the big night to view for themselves its almost unbelievable transformation into the best prom ever.

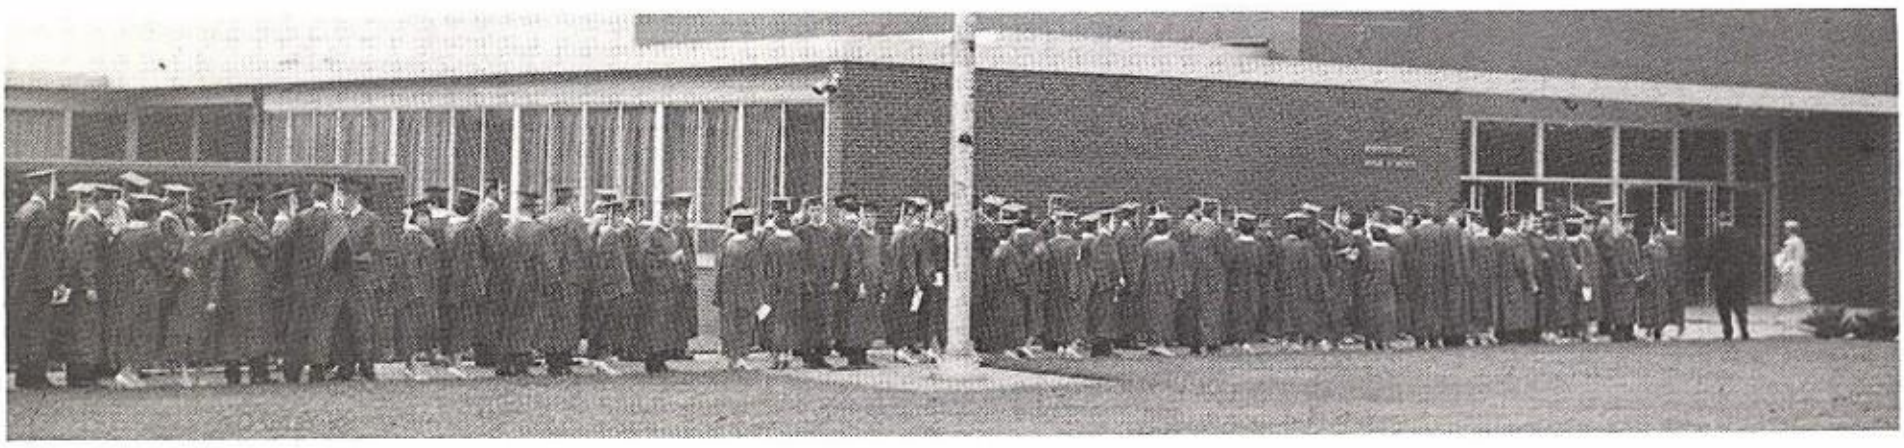
Sally Petrak holds back tears of excitement as she begins her reign as May queen. The proud escort is George Yovich; Rick Davis, president of the class of '64, places the crown.

COMMENCEMENT



The warm handshake, the diploma—simple treasures that will be fond memories in the future.

For seniors, spring wore an air of sadness as the last day approached rapidly. The Senior picnic, the dinner dance at the Country Club, caps and gowns, and finally exams kept them busy and constantly on the move. The anticipation of the prom excited them especially when they were not allowed near the gym. The prom came and went again as did most other activities. At Last! The night of the graduation itself appeared. The now familiar strains "Pomp and Circumstance" resounded through the air as the long lines of green and white processed slowly forward to receive their long awaited diploma and say a final good-bye to all their friends.



This is it. The longest walk we ever take.

Our team's section championship hinged on several important factors, the most important of these being a will to win. Throughout the season the Panthers used this facility to pull ahead and take a lead in the late innings of play. With the pitching of Ron Sabatino, Dale Grove, and Bob Doak, we were able to establish a respect for Riverside pitchers by many teams. As the season progressed it became apparent that our team would be right on top of the section and it wasn't a surprise when we found the road to the Section 6 championship. Among the bright spots of the season was the hitting of the team. On top was Larry Boyer with a .414 average. Next in line was Drew Szabo with .364 and coming in third was Sam DeCaria with .333. The team's coach helped foster all of these items in addition to giving inspiration and encouragement. The entire community took pride in the ability of our boys and in the fine manner in which they displayed a keen spirit of competition without losing an unwavering respect for sportsmanship.

UUUP . . . and over, as Jack Coates clears the high jump bar to place in the event.

Bob puts forth his best as the discus zooms to it's winning mark. Bob Zahn.

The boys warm up for another meet.

The track team, under the direction of Mr. Lennox and Mr. Carlson, ran its best season in three years. They ran a total of five section meets and won three of them. In the Midland Invitational they captured third, at the Mercer Invitational fourth, and in the I.S.P.I.A.L. they placed sixth. They had several good runners and hurdlers, the best of them being Denny Vinroe, who received several medals for his feats, and Ralph Nye who set a new school record in the javelin throw. Other outstanding members of the team were: Alan Dambach, Jack Coates, Bob Belsick, and Andy Durco.

SENIORS

CLASS OF 64

It has been a long time since the class of '64 started the long climb of education and now, as Seniors, are standing at the top of the stairs — when they look back they see all the things that have been so dear to them through the years, a new heartache is felt as they enjoy the thrills of the last basketball game, the tears of the last dance, the last track meet, the last baseball game, the last prom, the last assembly and Mr. Marietta's familiar, "Seniors are dismissed." S e n i o r s ! They all breathe a sigh at the now familiar title, the one that took so long to achieve — but then they turn slightly and look into the future and realize that there are a lot of stairs left to climb. In a sense these steps will continue o'er their lives; they have merely reached a landing place between finishing one flight and beginning another.

The members of the 1964 PATHFINDER Staff worked hard this year to present the students with a yearbook full of new ideas and pictures that would help them in later years in remembering vividly the fleeting course of events that made this such an exciting year. With the subscription number increased to 860 it is sincerely hoped that this aim was accomplished.

In attempting to accomplish this end, the staff learned the importance of cooperation and perfection required in the publication of a yearbook.

PATHFINDER

Co-Editors	Rick Davis Bob Brandt
Literary	Cheryl Vogler Bob Barbarowicz Patty Boots
Sports	Dale Grove Bob Lotz
Classes	Judy Kraynak Nancy Kasparek Jim Dyson
Activities	Jeannie Durco Michal Bates
Music	Ron Miller Dave Earlin
Typists	Peggy Dobbs Karen Javens Margery Stiefel Norma Welsh

I like that one better. Jeannie Durco and Michal Bates choose photos.

Here's the spot for the eighth grade chorus. Dave Earlin and Ron Miller deliberate on the choral section layout.

Bob Barbarowicz, Cheryl Vogler, and Patty Boots write and rewrite copy to fit it to the allotted space.

Advisor Mr. Robert Marziano

They tackled a monumental typing task and can show you stacks of carbon copies to prove it. Peggy Dobbs, Karen Javens, Norma Welsh, Margie Stiefel.

Seventh grade, eighth grade, freshmen . . . Jim Dyson, Judy Kraynak, and Nancy Kasparek sort through the dozens of class pictures.

"We'll have lots of space for action shots." Bob Lotz and Dale Grove plan the sports sections.

"Looking here." Mr. Getty is set for another snapshot.

ALMA MATER

Dear Riverside in tribute now a song we sing to you,
To show we're proud to be a part of something fair and true,
Hail Alma Mater of our school, we sing with lasting pride,
To fail you not, when days here end, will be our timely stride.

Though shadows fall and doubts are cast, our faith is ever strong,
You'll stand beside us all the while, the journey rough and long.
While gaining priceless knowledge here along with friendships
true,
We'll always have a loyal thought, "Dear Riverside" for you.

The years may come and years may go, but thoughts remain anew,
Of all the memories we will share "Dear Riverside" with you.
With loyalty and faith so strong in ways we know as right,
We'll cherish all our long lived days, the precious green and white.

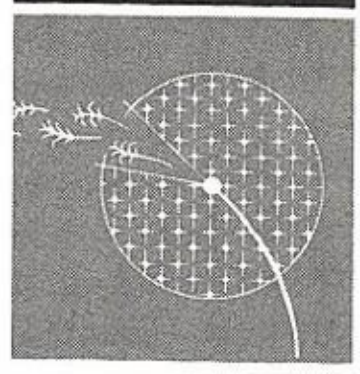
The lyrics for our Alma Mater were written by Donna Popescu and Judy Weisz during the spring of 1963 as part of an all-school project which was carried on through the English classes.



The 1964 PATHFINDER Staff would like to say a special thanks to all those who contributed in any way to the production of our yearbook this year.

To Mr. Marziano, our sponsor, whose advice and friendship gave us that extra spurt of "something" during the oh-so-many obstacles that presented themselves throughout.

To Mr. Getty, our photographer and constant companion, who has given our book a definite look of professionalism through his outstanding photography.

To our parents, who were understanding all the evenings when the midnight oil burned long, and to you, the students, who have read this book and given your nod of approval.

Yes, we thank each and every person who helped through guidance, enthusiasm and understanding as we worked to produce this edition of the PATHFINDER.
